

It takes place every autumn over 5 days, with 80 adult education professionals participating since 2011

The days are organised thematically, moving from policy and advocacy to project work

Bringing together participants from across Europe, it compares national contexts and encourages peer learning

Frontal presentations are limited to minimum - non-formal methods encourage active participation

The participants are adult education professionals, often with diverse profiles - working on advocacy, outreach, projects, communication...

It builds networks - former participants stay in touch through the Younger Staff Network
