What lessons can be drawn from the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic? We invite you to discuss new challenges and opportunities for outreach and access in adult learning during our virtual conference.

On the second day, we will look at the European Commission's Upskilling Pathways as an opportunity to improve outreach and access, and we will discuss how and why to engage to make the initiative a reality.

On the first day of the conference, we will look at the immediate response to the pandemic and the support adult education providers have provided to their most vulnerable learners. We will also reflect on what lies ahead.

How can adult learning organisations engage to increase participation in Upskilling Pathways? From EU policies to learners

20 November, 10:00 am - 1:00 pm CET

What can adult education trainers and staff do to increase participation in Adult Learning and Education? How can they engage to improve and implement national and European policies?

The UP-AEPRO project addresses the constant need and interest of trainers and staff to learn more about European developments in adult education. After an e-learning course on policy and practices for Upskilling Pathways and peer learning webinars, the consortium would like to exchange on the concrete steps ALE trainers and staff could do to increase learners’ participation in Upskilling Pathways.

During the event, you will have the chance to hear learners' voices, discuss the challenges with other trainers, learn about advocacy tools and contribute to the UP-AEPRO policy recommendations. In addition to high-level inputs, presentation of the project results and interactive discussions, there will also be an occasion for the Portuguese adult education sector to discuss successful initiatives on an inclusive and empowering basic skills provision.

Online tools and other inspiring methodologies will be used in order to enable participants to contribute and feel fully engaged in the event.
