European Lifelong Learning and Adult Education Strategies

The European Commission is developing initiatives to allow that all EU Member States can harness the full potential of education and culture. The Education Area also aims to foster cooperation and collaboration between Member States in the areas of education and culture.

The Education Area addresses all sectors of education. For adult learning, it proposed that by 2025, at least 47% of adults aged 25-64 should have participated in learning during the last 12 months.

A three tiered funding programme providing financial support for projects related to education at all levels.

In the new programme period since 2021, adult learners are able to get mobility funding under Erasmus+.
