Meet the Trainers

Angeliki Giannakopoulou

Angeliki Giannakopoulou joined EAEA in January 2023 as Project Coordinator. She has several years of experience in Erasmus+ project management, which she has acquired in a local adult education centre in Patras, Greece (one of EAEA's members). She has certificates in training adult educators and in guidance and counselling as well as an integrated Masters in Computer Engineering and Informatics of the University of Patras.

Charlotte Ede

EAEA's Capacity Building and Project Coordinator Charlotte Ede supports EAEA's work by preparing events, training courses and study visits in the scope of EAEA's capacity-building work. She manages EAEA's role in EU-funded projects, particularly for the green transition. She holds a MA in European Studies from KU Leuven, as well as BA (Hons) in French and Arabic from the University College London.

Raffaella
Kihrer

EAEA's Head of Policy and Deputy Secretary General is in charge of coordinating EAEA's policy and advocacy work, including also ensuring policy relevance of project results. She is an active member of several working groups and task forces that address the European Semester, the implementation of the European Education Area and its policy initiatives, sustainability and global citizenship education, and the financing of ALE.

Tina Mavrič

EAEA's Head of Capacity-Building Tina Mavrič coordinates and supports a number of projects in the Erasmus+ and Horizon Europe programmes that have a focus on sustainability and validation of skills. With a background in Environmental Sciences, Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology, obtained in Slovenia, she has more than ten years of experience working in various European projects and initiatives related to the youth and lifelong learning sectors.
